Trinity Offers Next Day Property Photos for AVMs

DALLAS, Texas, (September 15, 2014) – Trinity Field Services, LLC, a national property inspection management company, announced today the nationwide availability of AVM property report that delivers next-day turnaround services for photos and property information to AVM providers or their customers. The service offers current property photos and exterior condition report enabling a rapid visual confirmation of the property for an AVM order.

"While AVMs are widely used, valuation providers have been searching for ways to enhance their usage during ordering or backend processing, especially the need to quickly have 'eyes on' the property," said Brad Meyer, President. Trinity's service was developed from customer requirements for fast turn around, current photos and property condition. While there will always be a demand for the professional appraiser's eyes coupled with their expert knowledge, Trinity's AVM Photo Report will help AVM providers confirm the current condition of the property.
